COLORADO SPRINGS – Oct. 30, 2017 – An all-star lineup of some of Christian music's biggest names will take the stage at the Broadmoor World Arena when THE ROADSHOW stops in Colorado Springs on Saturday, March 17, 2018, during the tour's ninth year.

Grammy-winning duo for KING & COUNTRY, along with Grammy nominees Matthew West, Natalie Grant and Zach Williams are just some of the chart-topping artists slated to perform this year. As a special treat, popular Dove Award-winning worship ministry Bethel Music will kick off each event, and Miami hip-hop duo Social Club Misfits round out the stylistically diverse mix of music that will appeal to the entire family.

THE ROADSHOW launches Feb. 16, 2018, in Charlottesville, Va., and, including Colorado Springs, will hit 23 major markets across the U.S.: Tulsa, Albuquerque, Phoenix, Portland, Seattle, Reno, Salt Lake City, and Houston, to name a few. The tour will run through February and March, before wrapping up in Dallas on March 25.

Over the past nine years, THE ROADSHOW has grown to become more than just a concert tour. Each year, thousands of families come together in arenas across the country for an affordable night of fun and excitement for all ages. Part of The Roadshow's mission is to make it easier for families to create lasting memories together. A $10 general admission ticket price at the door helps make that possible.

Advance VIP ticket packages are also available – the ROADSHOW UPGRADE ticket and the ROADSHOW EXPERIENCE ticket. These special ticket packages include early entry for premium seat selection, private pre-show artist appearances, exclusive VIP merchandise items and more.
